Safari Nation opens new lines of inquiry into the study of national parks in Africa and the rest of the world. The Kruger National Park is South Africa's most iconic nature reserve, renowned for its rich flora and fauna. According to Dlamini, there is another side to the park, a social history in which black people occupy centre stage. Safari Nation details the ways in which black people devoted energies to conservation and to the park over the course of the twentieth century. 978-1-4314-3023-9 | History | Trade Paperback | 235x155mm | 320pp | R280 Southern African Rights | October 2020

They Called You Dambudzo by Flora Veit-Wild

Flora shared a life with Dambudzo Marachera. They loved; they lost, but both gained from the relationship. '... thank you ... on behalf of readers of literature from Africa, for forging your connection with Dambudzo when you did, and for everything you have done for his work and reputation since.' – Elleke Boehmer This book is a memoir with a 'double heartbeat'. At its centre is the author's relationship with the late Zimbabwean writer whose award-winning book The House of Hunger marked him as a powerful, disruptive, perhaps prophetic voice in African literature.
