RETHINKING ACTIVISM IN AFRICA

Voices and visionaries for social justice and human rights

EDITED BY MARK HEYWOOD

This book documents some of the latest issues activists are facing in a rapidly changing world – drawing on stories and campaigns from the contemporary frontlines of social justice activism across the continent.

Fourteen essays from eight different countries tell inspiring and thought-provoking stories on youth participation in democratic processes, civil society in war zones, internet freedoms, campaigns for equality and non-discrimination, alliances and the use of law. It also digs deeper into compassion and care, music, theatre, food sovereignty and even rest.

FROM EDUCATION CRISIS TO ORGANISATION: REFLECTIONS ON THE NECC (1985-1995)

LINDA CHISHOLM, SHIREEN MOTALA, YOGESH NARSING, TERRI MAGGOTT, CHARISSA SHAY-SITHOLE, ELAINE UNTERHALTER AND JUNE BAM

From Education Crisis to Organisation unlocks the story of how learning became a movement in South Africa – and changed lives beyond the classroom. It situates the history of the National Education Crisis/ Coordinating Committee (NECC), an intergenerational social movement, among broader histories of resistance to apartheid. This book draws from archival documentation and interviews to highlight the politics of knowledge production and the debates that came to the fore during a decade of protest.

AFRICA'S STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIPS WITH BRICS AND OTHER EMERGING COUNTRIES

EDITED BY SIPHAMANDLA ZONDI AND HELLEN ADOGO

With an emphasis on African agency Africa's Strategic Partnerships examines the continent's evolving diplomatic efforts with emerging global powers, specifically BRICS countries and nations in the global south such as Turkey and Iran. It discusses the management and outcomes of these efforts and raises questions about Africa's ability to leverage these relationships for its development goals while safeguarding its broader interests. Readers will come to understand the opportunities and complexities involved and their bearing on Africa's position in the global arena.

LANDSCAPES OF DISPOSSESSION

Stories of the Hardekraaltjie Cemetery

EDITED BY MARIETJIE OELOFSEN AND CHEFFERINO FORTUIN

Across cultures and peoples, visiting gravesites is a deeply ingrained ritual integral to grieving and connecting with the departed. The Hardekraaltjie cemetery was opened in 1910 and closed in 1946 and the community of Tiervlei lost access to the cemetery when the site became the grounds of Tygerberg Hospital. Landscapes of Dispossession is what comes of memorializing a burial place that only exists in the minds of community members. Full of emotional stories about interred ancestors and people searching for solace, this book underscores the multifaceted possibilities of restitution.

THE QUEST FOR UNITY

An Appraisal of Regional Integration in Africa

DAVID MONYAE & SIZOO NKALA

An easily accessible book written in simple and concise language that tackles one of the most topical issues in Africa today: the quest to overcome the colonial legacy of fragmentation and division through fostering regional and continental integration. This book will be of interest to policy makers, businesspeople, civil society organisations, academics and students, and non-Africans who want to understand the dynamics of regional integration in the continent.

WORLDS APART?

Perspectives on African–EU Migration

EDITED BY ADEOYE O. AKINOLA AND JESPER BJARNESEN

The three overarching goals of Worlds Apart? Perspectives on African–EU Migration are: first, to contribute to narrowing the differences between African and European approaches to managing migration; second to reconcile divergent perspectives from diverse actors in Africa–EU migration; and third, to encourage greater public awareness and policy cooperation in this vital area in order to protect vulnerable migrants.

AUSI TOLD ME

Why Cape Herstories Matter

JUNE BAM

Ausi Told Me: Why Cape Herstories Matter provides fascinating insights into life at the Cape over several centuries, the indigenous inhabitants and their accumulated knowledge, and how attempts were made to systematically erase this knowledge during the colonial and apartheid eras. Yet the wisdom of the ages still resides with the Ausidi, the female, intergenerational knowledge-keepers who are revered for the central role they played in Rondevlei, Hardevlei and other communities on the Cape Flats before the forced removals from the 1960s onwards changed the landscape forever.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF SOUTH AFRICA

From the Earliest Times to the Mandela Presidency

JOHN PAMPALLIS AND MARYKE BAILEY

A Brief History of South Africa is an introduction to South African history from the earliest times to the Mandela Presidency. Using both a narrative chronology and thematic chapters, the book encourages critical thinking about how history shaped South Africa. While presenting an account of colonisation and the policies of successive governments, A Brief History portrays the resistance to colonisation, segregation and apartheid, including the role of political, social and trade union movements.

FROM IVORY TOWERS TO EBONY TOWERS

Transforming Humanities Curricula in South Africa, Africa and African American Studies

EDITED BY OLUWASEUN TELLA AND SHIREEN MOTALA

This book argues that, beyond the use of internally constructed strategies to foster curriculum transformation in South Africa, it is important to draw lessons from the curriculum transformation efforts of other African countries and African-American studies in the United States (US). The end of colonialism in Africa from the 1950s marked the most important era in curriculum transformation efforts in African higher education, evident in the rise of leading decolonial schools: the Ibadan School of History, the Dar es Salaam School of Political Economy and the Dakar School of Culture.

HIDDEN VOICES: BONDS OF JUSTICE

The Struggle for Oukase

KALLY FORREST

This fourth volume in the Hidden Voices Series is about Oukase, a township in the Madibeng municipality. Both during and after apartheid, its inhabitants struggled against problems such as forced removals, terrible living conditions and corrupt officials. This book tells the story of a group of people who were motivated by their belief that accountable and responsible leadership was needed to improve the situation of their community and its members.

HIDDEN VOICES: THE STORY OF ONE TELLS THE STRUGGLE OF ALL

Metalworkers under Apartheid

MANDLENKOSI MAKHOBHA & PETRUS TOM

This is the third volume in the Hidden Voices Series. It is comprised of two booklets first published under Raven Press's Worker Series which aims to tell the lived experiences of workers during apartheid. Despite the passing of over 30 years since they were first published, the stories of Mandlenkosi Makhoba and Petrus Tom continue to be relevant, as they point to the ongoing struggle against exploitation and oppression.

BUSINESS AS USUAL AFTER MARIKANA

Corporate Power and Human Rights

EDITED BY JAKOB KRAMERITSCH, BRITTA BECKER AND MAREN GRIMM

Lonmin Platinum Mine and the events of 16 August are a microcosm of the mining sector and how things can go wrong when society leaves everything to government and “big business”. Business as Usual after Marikana is a comprehensive analysis of mining in South Africa. Written by respected academics and practitioners in the field, it looks into the history, policies and business practices that brought us to this point.

EXTREMISMS IN AFRICA

EDITED BY ALAIN TSCHUDIN, STEPHEN BUCHANAN-CLARKE, LLOYD COUTTS, SUSAN THOMAS-RUSSELL AND MANDLA TYALA

This is an introductory anthology and the first of its kind on the topic of the efficacy and wisdom of purely militarised responses to extremist movements typified by the Global War on Terror, as well as the cursory replication of international counter-terrorism frameworks promulgated by the United Nations and European Union in Africa. Emphasis is given to the importance of understanding context-specific factors to effectively address the emergence and spread of extremism in Africa.

HIDDEN VOICES: FLASHES IN HER SOUL

The Life of Jabu Ndlovu

JEAN FAIRBAIRN

Jabu, her husband and her oldest daughter were killed in a brutal attack on their home in May 1989. This book shows the courage and compassion with which Jabu fought against all forms of exploitation. Her story represents the experiences of thousands of women who struggled and suffered as a result of the war in KwaZulu-Natal in the 1980s and 1990s. Jabu's story reminds us of the need that remains for strong and moral leaders like Jabu to speak out today.

MOZAMBIQUE AND BRAZIL

Forging New Partnerships or Developing Dependency?

CHRIS ALDEN, SÉRGIO CHICHAHA AND ANA CRISTINA ALVES

This book investigates the expanding involvement of Brazil in one of Africa's fastest-growing economies, Mozambique. Despite the strengths of South-South cooperation in forging a new development partnership, there is growing evidence that the conduct of Brazilian firms and the policies promoted by Brazilian development assistance projects are generating a negative fallout amongst local communities and environmental activists.

A DIFFERENT KIND OF AIDS

Folk and Lay Theories in South African Townships

DAVID DICKINSON

This book explores how HIV/AIDS is understood in South African townships. In South Africa, HIV infection and death from AIDS continue despite intensive educational efforts and the availability of antiretroviral treatment. The book focuses on non-scientific or alternative understandings of AIDS, as well as the folk and lay theories that circulate within African countries.

(UN)COVERING MEN

Rewriting Masculinity and Health in South Africa

MELISSA MEYER AND HELEN STRUTHERS

(Un)covering Men formed part of a journalistic bid to see whether it is possible to write differently about different men. The collected journalism in this book breaks away from overused archetypes and explores how men can be covered in the media in all their diversity and guises. By positioning itself within a broader health media context, the coverage in this book shows how narrowly defined notions of masculinity often facilitate and reinforce risk-taking behaviour.

BLACK BULL, ANCESTORS AND ME

My Life as a Lesbian Sangoma

NKUNZI ZANDILE NKABINDE

As a sangoma, Nkunzi is able to explore dimensions of her sexual identity because of her relationship with both male and female ancestors. Conscious of her constitutional rights as an urban young lesbian in a time of a relentless spate of hate crimes against township lesbians, Nkunzi is simultaneously sensitive to the demands of the guiding ancestral voice of the traditional, rural Zulu patriarch whose name she bears.

HOPE, PAIN AND PATIENCE

The Lives of Women in South Sudan

FRIEDERIKE BUBENZNER AND ORLY STERN (EDITORS)

As in many post-conflict countries, the roles played by women during Sudan's long-lasting liberation struggle continue to go unrecognised. Thousands of women joined the southern liberation struggle in response to a political situation that affected whole communities, leaving the comfort and security of their homes not just to accompany their husbands but to fight for freedom, democracy, equity, justice, rights and dignity.

JOURNEYS TO RECOVERY

Breaking the Silence

COMPILED BY PEOPLE OPPOSING WOMEN ABUSE

Survivors of violence are often forced to flee – emotionally and geographically – from sites of violence. Women cross vast emotional and geographical borders in order to flee from violence to find a place of safety. This year, POWA called for entries in the three categories of poetry, short stories and personal essays that describe the transformation of the flight from violence into a journey of healing.
